

HOUSE TO GET FULL LIGHT ON DRUG TRAFFIC

Foreign Affairs Committee to Take Up Kahn Resolution, Chairman Announces.

A thorough investigation of the international traffic in habit-forming drugs will be made by the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Chairman Porter has announced that his committee will act without delay on the Kahn resolution, requesting the delegates to the arms conference to arrange for an international conference to consider means for suppressing the drug traffic.

Members of Congress have been informed that morphine shipped from the United States and Great Britain by way of Japan, and distributed through the Japanese postoffices in China, has formed the bulk of the traffic.

The investigations will be directed principally at the traffic in China, but will extend to all the ramifications, as already disclosed to members of Congress who have made a study of the subject.

Chairman Porter, who also is chairman of the American conference delegation's special advisory committee on Pacific and Far Eastern questions, said the advisory committee has made a study of traffic in habit-forming drugs.

The results of their inquiries, it is understood, already have been laid before the American delegation at the conference and it is believed they played a large part in the decision to abolish foreign postoffices in China.
